

- Discord meeting:
 - Technique Sharing Presentation:
 - We are presenting on Monday, the 25th of November.
 - Preparing the presentation:
 - We should all contribute to the notes in the slide deck and provide our insights in bullet point format.
 - If there's already a lot of information on the slides, then try to reinforce the ideas that are already there, and maybe refine the idea if it isn't clear
 - We will try to have our bullet points finished by Friday (the 22nd) at the latest.
 - After we have these bullet points completed, we will distribute each of the topics to each of our group members.
 - Then we will write everything out into coherent sentences, which should be finalized by Sunday (the 24th) at 12pm at the LATEST.
 - This is so we will have time to practice on our own and get the total times for the presentation, and adjust as needed
 - Template:
 - We went over the templates and chose both that we wanted to use for the technique sharing presentation and for the final presentation.
 - Final presentation:
 - We present on the 2nd, which is also a Monday. So we should have enough of our project completed in time to get a concrete demo.
 - The demo should be pre-recorded because LIVE DEMOS SUCK (insert personal trauma here).
 - We chose the template too :)
 - It should mostly consist of our main features, but we shouldn't really spend any time on logging in since that's not inherently interesting.
 - Friendship is interesting and we can go over it :)
 - Awards Discussion:
 - A document has been made to brainstorm award name ideas
 - Kelly and Cynthia will continue to workshop the names and put them in the repo when they're done

- The backend for this feature is done, just the frontend is left
 - Have cards like the one for posts to display awards on
 - This limits the sorting needed to be done in the frontend
- Sprint 3:
 - We're 50% of the way done!
 - All core backend work is completed.
 - The Desktop UI still remains to be started.
 - Tara will step in to support as much as she can, but will need to have at least something to work off of to get started.
 - Other PRs will be merged in soon, they just need to be fully tested and some merge conflicts resolved.
- Action items:
 - For Technique Sharing presentation:
 - Add in bullet points for Friday.
 - Assign who is presenting what.
 - Write out full paragraphs for your slide(s).
 - Send time length of your section.
 - Keep working on Sprint 3.
 - Cynthia will check in with Kelly if she needs help in 3 days.
 - Start development on Desktop UI.
 - Clean up final PRs.
